Wynnewood Corporation Limited

Corporate Code of Conduct

Our Customers

Wynnewood strives to protect our customer by maintaining a high level of intellectual property protection procedure throughout the product development cycle to production, while working with world class laboratories to ensure product safety and regulations are met. Any non-compliance in product quality, or complaints from end users, will be systematically followed through to achieve a high satisfaction on products manufactured by us. Compliance to various ethical standards and code of conducts is the foundation to our operation.

Our Suppliers

Maintaining a good supply chain is key to success! We choose our suppliers carefully and set out to build a long-term relationship, while sharing our philosophy on ethics and sustainability. We aim for open communication with our suppliers on complains and suggestions that will lead to growth for both organizations.

Business Integrity and Anti-corruption

Business integrity is top priority for our business operation as this allows us to build trust and transparent relationship with all our stakeholders. Based on this philosophy we impose a zero-tolerance policy on misconduct and bribery, and demand all our suppliers and employees to follow accordingly. Not only are trainings provided to all stakeholders, but we require that the anti-bribery policy is circulated and signed by all suppliers and employees alike, while this will also be displayed prominently on all notice boards in the factory as a reminder to all employees on the importance of such policy.
